		Potentially a very good beer, very malt forward in aroma which was pleasant. The sample presented was over carbonated and tasted too bitter. Colour was excellent and there were notes of caramel in the aroma and flavour which was pleasant. Try dropping the IBU's slightly and keep an eye on the carbonation levels.

		Very lime forward aroma, initial flavour was yeasty which hampered the lime flavour. It was a touch acidic too, which may be due to the yeast selection as some wheat beer strains can drop the pH, this coupled with the lime made it a touch too tart.

		Very tart and fruity aroma, touch of sulphur but that dissipated quickly. Beautiful colour and very pleasant, tart and fruity flavour - very refreshing. Coconut came through at the end of the palate but not on aroma.
/10	Y/N	39/50
8/10

Round 3 Notes - A very fun combination of flavours and ingredients used, looked great in terms of colour. Coconut wasn't too prominent though, only on the back end of the palate. Good use of souring culture to bring more than a one dimensional sourness, felt almost mixed fermentation in flavour. Well done!

Round 3 Notes - First Place Winner - great depth of flavour from the malt and other sugars used expressing lots of dark malt character in the flavour and aroma. This would lend itself to being on cask wonderfully. As with round 2, only thing might be to dial back the black/dark malts a slight touch

Round 3 Notes - Third place in final judging. Standing out as being very well balanced and rounded. Appearance especially but also good body and malt flavour. Very smooth for a session strength beer. Only thin which held it back was a very slight amount of oxidation and brown paper flavour. Well done!

Round 3 Notes - Second Place - great aroma, full of citrus and slight dankness. Flavour matched the aroma. Could maybe use a touch more carbonation and a very small amount of body increase. A very well balanced beer. Whilst it would be a more expensive beer to brew commercially the style would sell. - Well done!

		Excellent citrus aroma, head did dissipate but came back. Flavour was a touch green and notes of allium, but very fresh with citrus notes and hop character. Great mouthfeel and body and well balanced.

Round 3 Notes - Aroma was good on the beer, lots of citrus notes. Flavour was a touch oniony though, possibly after some more conditioning time this would settle but a good example of the style, which is hard to brew at this strength. The body was a little thinner too, maybe look at ways to build this up if re-brewed. Well Done.

		The beer presented as under-carbonated and flat, thin in body and almost sweet in flavour. Sweet Malt character was present but like wort, unfermented. Colour was great but no head on the beer.

		Sadly this sample had a lot of diac present, which hampered it in aroma and flavour.
